Read the passage carefully and answer the questions:

5 Marks

Fruits and vegetables contain fibre which is needed for good intestinal health. Apples, blackberries, pears, and raspberries are fruits especially high in fibre. Lentils, lima beans, pinto beans, and spinach are high-fibre vegetables. Some fruits and vegetables, which have lower but still good amounts of fibre, are bananas, blueberries, broccoli, green beans and sweet potatoes. Fruits and vegetables are low in calories. A healthy plate should have one-half filled with fruits and vegetables. High-calorie foods cause weight gain. Eating fruits and vegetables may prevent certain diseases, such as high blood pressure, heart disease and some types of cancer. Fruits and vegetables contain many important vitamins and minerals. Calcium is necessary for good bones and teeth. Vitamin C keeps gums healthy and can heal wounds. Vitamin A keeps eyes and skin healthy and can help prevent infection. Fruits and vegetables are a quick snack and more natural and good for you than potato chips and candy. They have fewer calories and fat too.

Answer the following

HEALTHY HAIR

Read the passage and answer the questions:

5 marks

We must take proper care of our hair. Healthy hair looks beautiful and makes us feel good. It is important to keep our hair clean by washing it regularly with soap or shampoo. This removes the dirt and dust and prevents scalp infections. To have healthy hair, we must eat a balanced diet which provides nourishment to our skin. We should eat lots of green leafy vegetables, fresh fruits and cereals. Consumption of amla juice, ashgourd juice, pumpkin and coconut water enhances hair growth. Vitamin B12 helps to prevent hair loss and can be found in fish, eggs, chicken and milk. We should avoid the intake of maida (fine flour) and deep-fried dishes, sweets made of white sugar, soft drinks, tea and coffee. If we follow a healthy regime of yoga and breathing exercises, we can enjoy healthy hair for a long time as it slows down the process of graying and ageing.

There lived two close friends Ram and Shyam in a village. One day they went into a forest. Suddenly, they noticed that they had lost their way. They were afraid of wild animals. So, they promised to one another that they would never leave each other in times of danger.

All of a sudden, they saw a bear coming towards them. As Ram knew how to climb a tree, he climbed the tree and left his friend alone. Poor Shyam fell flat on the ground like a dead person. The bear smelt the body of the lying friend and thought him to be a dead body. So, it did not touch him and went away gently.

Ram asked Shyam eagerly, "Dear friend, what did the bear whisper into your ear?" Shyam said, "It advised me not to trust a friend who leaves his friend at the time of danger."

Earthquakes are one of the most powerful events on the earth. When large sections of underground rock break and move suddenly, an earthquake occurs. This causes the ground to shake back and forth. Small earthquakes do not cause much damage, but large ones do. Some earthquakes have caused buildings and bridges to fall. Others have caused rivers to change their paths. Earthquakes near mountains and cliffs can cause landslides that cover up the houses and roads below. If a large earthquake occurs under the ocean, it can cause giant waves which flood the seashore. When large earthquakes occur in a city, there is danger of fire from broken gas lines and electric lines. Broken telephone lines and damaged roads make it difficult for rescue workers to help people who are in need. Scientists are trying to find ways to predict when an earthquake will happen so that people can be warned ahead of time.

IV. Once a great saint, Swamy Ramteerth, from our country India went to Japan. In Japan he was travelling by train. One day he was not finding any fresh fruit to eat. Those days he used to eat only fruits. The train stopped at a station. Nowhere he was able to find any fruit. He remarked loudly, "Fresh fruit are not available in Japan". A Japanese youth was standing on the platform. Over hearing Ramteerth's remarks he went running and came back with a basket full of fresh fruit. Giving the fruits to Ramteerth he said, "Please take these fruit as you need them." Swamiji thought he was a fruit seller and asked him the cost of the fruit. The youth refused to accept anything in return for the fruits. After repeated requests he said, "If you really want to pay for these fruits then do this. When you go back to India do not tell anyone that you do not get fresh fruit in Japan." Swami Ramteerth was very impressed with the reply of this youth. VI. What's your house like?

Anvitha studies in an international school. Today, in their English class students were asked to describe their homes.

Anvitha: I live in a very big house. It is located on the top of a hill and it is 200 years old. It's all made of stone which makes it quite dark and cold. It's got some towers and a huge wooden front door with the family shield. There's a moat around it and a beautiful garden. My whole family from my grandparents to my uncles and cousins live here.

Ruby: Back in Kerala in my hometown I live with my parents and my sister in a house with three bedrooms and a backyard. The house isn't very big or very old, but it's a bit noisy. The walls are so thin that we can hear our neighbours both on the right and on the left. It has two storeys and a garage in the basement. I find it quite nice although I think it's not very interesting to live in a street where nine more houses look like mine.

Ravi: I love my house although I'd rather not have so many neighbours all around telling me to turn down my stereo. I hate it when the lift breaks down and I have to walk up about 120 steps! The view is super though a garden and some peace and quiet would be nice, too, but I guess I'll have to wait until my parents decide to move to the country side.

Kavitha : My parents' house is huge. It has a balcony full of flowers, where the family usually has breakfast. When it is very hot, which happens a lot in Goa. I spend some time in the swimming pool and around sunset. I like to play tennis with my brother. I think it's a wonderful house because of all the open space around it. We can invite lots of friends to barbecues and parties.

VII. ME AND MY FAMILY

Read the text and find out how these teenagers get along with their parents.

Peter, 13

My family is really great. My parents and my brother are very understanding and are always there when I need them. They are my best friends, so when I have a problem they are my advisers. We talk about everything. There are no taboos among us. At weekends we spend a lot of time together. I like discussing football with my father. He is an expert on the matter.

Mary, 12

I don't have a good relationship with my parents. They are too strict. They never accept my opinion. I think they are old-fashioned. During the week I almost never see my father and my mother is always busy. They don't listen to my problems; they simply don't have the time or the will to do so. They are too worried about their jobs and the only thing that matters to them is my marks at the end of the term.

Jane, 14

I live with my mother. I only see my father at weekends. They are separated. My father married again and now I have got a baby brother.

My relationship with my mother is quite good, but she is very protective and she is afraid of everything. I think she is a bit insecure about me.

My father is understanding but our relationship is not very close because we don't spend much time together.

VIII. The most famous building in Italy also famous worldwide for its unplanned tilt; is a bell tower. It is located near a church in the city of Pisa. It is The Leaning Tower of Pisa.

A bell tower serves as part of a church. It announces the time; and calls people to weddings; calls people to worship and calls people to funerals. There are seven bells in the Leaning Tower of Pisa. The Largest bell weighs more than three thousand six hundred kg (nearly 8000 pounds)

Construction began in 1173, when construction moved to the second floor in 1178, the tower began to tilt. The tilt was due to bad design: only a three meters foundation, set in weak unstable subsoil. Construction started and stopped three times because of wars. The tower was finally completed in 1350. It is one hundred eighty- five feet high and is made of white marble. Inside there are twin spiral staircases, with two hundred ninety- four steps; they start at the ground floor and take you up to the bell room.

In 1990 the bells were removed and it was closed to the public. People who lived near the tower had to leave their apartments and homes for safety reasons. After a decade of reconstruction the tower was reopened to the public in 2001. It should be stable for another three hundred years.

36. Which of the statements is true ()

- a) the tower is famous because it tilts.
- b) A bell tower is a church
